

Infrastructure Office

基础设施建设办公室

What is it?

Asia is developing rapidly and the demand for infrastructure is correspondingly growing. The Infrastructure Office seeks to support the development of the region by bringing together local and international partners across the value chain, including infrastructure developers, institutional investors, multilateral development agencies, and legal, accounting, and financial services providers. It will provide a platform for information exchange on infrastructure opportunities in Asia, facilitate infrastructure investments and financing, and enable infrastructure players in the region to tap on these opportunities.

2 Set up by Enterprise Singapore (ESG) and the Monetary Authority of Singapore (MAS), the Infrastructure Office will work hand-in-hand with the players in the infrastructure ecosystem. It will bring together resources and networks from other government agencies including Economic Development Board (EDB) and the Professional Services Programme Office (PSPO).

When will it be launched/implemented?

3 The Office will be launched in October 2018. Further details will be released in due course.

Issued on 1 March 2018
