ShopBack

Ms Candice Ong is currently Chief Commercial Officer and a Board Director at ShopBack, a Singapore headquartered shopping and rewards platform that has scaled to 10 markets in APAC.

She was previously the Managing Director at the Zalora Group, where she built regional teams across Marketing and Procurement during her five-year tenure. Her other prior work experience includes investment banking at Credit Suisse in South East Asia and Barclays Capital in New York.

Ms Ong previously served on the Committee on the Future Economy's (CFE) Future Corporate Capabilities and Innovation sub-committee in 2016 under Senior Minister of State Janil Puthuchery. She was recently appointed as Board Member for PICK in Oct 2020. PICK is a wholly owned subsidiary of IMDA, incorporated to deploy, own and operate the Nationwide Parcel Locker network across Singapore to deliver consistent services experience and ensure the pervasive distribution of lockers.

Ms Ong has participated in numerous events as a speaker or panelist, including Innovfest Unbound, the Young Women's Leadership Connection, the ASEAN Business Club Forum, eTail Asia and SFF x SWITCH.

In addition to her thought leadership in the retail and technology space, she is also an active advocate for women in tech, and regularly speaks on business and tech aimed at promoting women entrepreneurship. In 2020, in recognition of her professional leadership as well as advocacy efforts to promote tech entrepreneurship, the Singapore Computer Society listed her in their inaugural Top 100 Women-in-Tech awards.

Ms Phyllis Ong
Group CEO
Armstrong Industrial Corporation

Ms Phyllis Ong is a firm believer in the potential of positive impact that purposeful businesses can exert on organisations and society.

She started out in business consulting, working for Arthur Andersen. She then spent the next eight years developing her passion in both regional and operational brand management at Beiersdorf, the German parent company of NIVEA, Hansaplast and Eucerin, where the joy of touching people's lives through high quality brands and products remained a personal driving force.

After a short stint at Johnson & Johnson as Regional Franchise Manager for Neutrogena, she left to run a plant-based restaurant called Whole Earth. With its unique Peranakan-Thai concept, it became Singapore's first and only plant-based restaurant to be awarded by Michelin with Bib Gourmand. Being one of the original co-founders back in 2003, she envisioned that plant-based dining will be part of a global wellness trend and positioned Whole Earth to raise the bar on plant-based dining.

In 2010, Ms Ong decided to join Armstrong Industrial Corporation, founded by her parents in 1974. Rising through the ranks, she became CEO in Sept 2020 in the midst of Covid. Armstrong currently has 17 locations across diverse industries and markets in 7 Asian countries.

Ms Ong is confident that Armstrong can realise its Vision of becoming Asia's leading world class manufacturing gateway partnering innovative enterprises in Singapore and the world to offer smarter, safer and greener innovations to customers globally. Through driving digital transformation, partnerships and an open working culture towards learning and innovation, many exciting possibilities lie ahead.

In 2017, Ms Ong founded a startup called CORI Innolab with the Vision of creating a world class

	biotechnology-focussed consumer brand in the skin health and wellness space.
	Ms Helen Wong Group CEO OCBC Bank Ms Helen Wong was appointed as Group CEO on 15 April 2021. She joined the Bank in February 2020 as Deputy President and Head of Global Wholesale Banking. As the Head of Global Wholesale Banking, she has global responsibility for all banking relationships with small- and medium-sized enterprises, large corporates and financial institutions; two product groups – cash management and trade under the transaction banking business; as well as the investment banking business. Ms Wong has more than 37 years of banking experience, having started out as a Management Trainee in OCBC Bank and was its first China Desk Manager, based at the Hong Kong Branch. She has vast experience in Greater China, covering a wide range of roles in capital markets, syndicated finance and corporate banking. Before returning to OCBC Bank, Ms Wong spent 27 years at HSBC where her last role as its Chief Executive for Greater China was held since 2015. She became the President and CEO of HSBC China based in Shanghai in 2010. To recognise her responsibility for the entire business operations and strategic expansion in China, Ms Wong was promoted to be Group General Manager in 2011. She also held non-executive directorships at Baoshan Iron &amp; Steel from 2012 to 2015, and at Bank of Communications from 2016 to 2019. Ms Wong holds a Bachelor of Social Sciences from the University of Hong Kong.

Dr Zhou Lihan
Co-founder and CEO
MiRXES

Dr Zhou Lihan is the Co-founder and CEO of MiRXES, a leader in RNA technology and disease early detection with operations globally. Having created the world's first molecular blood test for early gastric cancer detection, MiRXES tapped on their existing technologies and pivoted swiftly to mass-produce COVID-19 Fortitude test kits that were instrumental to Singapore's fight against the pandemic. Together with his co-founders, Dr Zhou was awarded the EY Entrepreneur of the Year 2021 Singapore.

Dr Zhou holds a PhD in Biochemistry from the Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine, National University of Singapore. During his research career in NUS, A*STAR and MiRXES, Dr Zhou has authored 25 peer-reviewed publications and several patent applications in microRNA and PCR technologies, novel cancer biomarkers and methods of gene delivery. In 2015, Dr Zhou was recognised by the MIT Technology Review as a member of the Innovators Under 35.

Navigating these rapidly changing times while leveraging on what technology can offer, Dr Zhou led MiRXES' growth from a 3-man startup to a 300-strong global team and collaborated extensively with leading medical schools, clinical institutions, and pharmaceutical companies to develop and deploy novel RNA tests to better population health. MiRXES is also working with institutions including Yayasan Mendaki to nurture future talents especially for the biotech industry. In recognition of his innovation in biotechnology and healthcare, Dr Zhou was awarded A*STAR Scientist-Entrepreneur Award in 2017, the National University of Singapore's Outstanding Young Alumni Award 2021 and the SBR Management Excellence Award Executive of the Year (Biotechnology) 2021.
